The GlenAllachie 35-Year-Old is a remarkable single malt that marks the oldest official release from a distillery to date. Produced in limited quantities, this rare expression reflects the Speyside distillery's commitment to patience, precision, and long-term vision. Distilled in 1989 and matured for over three decades in a carefully selected combination of three Pedro Ximénez casks, one Oloroso sherry cask and two virgin oak casks, it stands as a showcase of the GlenAllachie house style elevated to extraordinary depth and complexity.

Located near Aberlour in Speyside, GlenAllachie was established in 1967 by Charles Mackinlay & Co. and has experienced several changes in ownership. The distillery's modern era began in 2017 under the leadership of Billy Walker, bringing renewed focus to long-matured, character-driven single malts. GlenAllachie's house style is known for its soft, elegant profile with subtle malt richness and delicate peat, making it an ideal canvas for extended maturation in expressive wood.
