The distillery was established in 1890 in Arandas, Jalisco, Mexico. Casa Centinela was founded in 1904 by the Torres Perez Vargas family. Casa Centinela have been producing Tequila at the Hacienda El Centinela on the outskirts of the town of Arandas, in the highlands of Jalisco, since 1904.

The company we know today is the result of a visionary man, Don Jose de Jesus Hernandez. His inspirational zeal for perfection resulted in a range of distinctive tasting tequilas that are a renowned part of La Familia Centinela.

Don Pepe passed away in 2008, but the company was handed down to his son Pepe Jr. Hernández and his daughters Sandra Hernández and Grace Hernández. Centinela means "Sentinel" as in sentinel, the watch (Guard) and Cabrito (small goat).

Tasting Notes: Coloured with a light golden hue, it has mellow notes of apple, pear, banana, anisette and caramel, with a subtle honey, cooked agave and white oak notes.
