Michel Couvreur source malt whiskies from Scotland and mature them in their caves in Burgundy, moving between different cellars to perfect the ageing process.

This is a single malt, matured in a sweet Pedro Ximenez cask for 16 years in both dry and humid cellars, and at only 100 bottles is one of the rarest whiskies they've ever produced.

It is a beautiful deep red colour, with rich sherry notes and a round fruitiness that holds its alcohol level well. Like an exceptionally classy hug.
