It took Giannis Tselepos 10 years to carefully observe and study Arcadian vineyards so as to select the perfect location for the establishment of his winery, which was founded on the eastern foothills of Mount Parnon.

Set in 30 hectares of privately owned vineyard, the Tselepos winery fully fits the natural environment and ecosystem of the area. Mantinia lies in the heart of Peloponnese, in Arcadia. The cool climatic conditions in the region result in a prolonged ripening season, with harvests going well into late October.

Grape Varieties: 100% Agiorgitiko

Farming Practices: Sustainable

Tasting Notes: Elegant sparkling wine with a light rose color and elegant bubbles with intensity and duration. On the nose there are distinct aromas of cherries, with a touch of yeast in the background.

Closure: Natural Cork
