Located at the entrance to the Dolomites, high in the Isarco Valley near Italy's border with Austria, the Augustinian monastery Abbazia di Novacella was founded in 1142, making it one of the world's oldest active wineries, with papal documents from 1177 recording the abbey's ownership of vineyards.

Today it is still a functioning monastery with a focus on adding the local community by growing a wide range of crops, including vineyards on high altitude terraces clinging to the valley walls. It is also one of the finest wineries in the quality-focused Alto Adige region, regularly receiving the top Tre Bicchieri (3 glasses) award from the most influential Italian wine guide, the Gambero Rosso.
