Fattoria Tregole is a small winery located in Castellina in Chianti set in a stunning position it overlooks rolling hills of forest, vineyards, olive groves and rural house. The 19th hectare estate is owned by Sophie Conte, who followed the path of her father, that purchased the winery in 1998.

When Sophie's family first arrived it was in a state of disrepair. Thanks to their family vision and passion the old buildings were restored, new vines planted and old neglected vineyards restored to former glory. In 2016, Sophie restored the old cellar, following Tuscan traditions, like concrete tanks.

Grape Varieties: Sangiovese

Farming Practices: Organic

Tasting Notes: Deep ruby red with light violet hues. Notes of red fruits and small berries associated with light sensations of cherries and an ample flower bouquet. Great structured wine, characterised by a good balance between acidity and tannins, with a cold and persistent finish. Tuscan or other antipasti, pasta with vegetables, roasted and grilled meat.
