John Blandy first set foot on Madeira in 1808 to work in the accounting office of Newton, Gordon, Murdoch, wine merchants. In 1811 he established his own company. Today, under Chris Blandy, the family continue to own and operate the Madeira Wine Company, preserving a tradition that has lasted for over 200 years and through seven generations. The Blandy family is distinguished by being the only founding family to still own and run their own original wine company. Throughout its long history on the island, the family has played a leading role in the development of Madeira Wine.

Its members continue to live in Madeira. Thus maintaining a tradition that dates back to 1811 – two centuries of producing a wine of excellence. Matured for 10 years in seasoned American oak casks, this rich and smoky Madeira from Blandy's has been made with 100% Verdelho grapes. Matured using a Canteiro system – slowly moving the casks from higher levels, where it is warmer, to lower levels in the warehouses, where temperatures are cooler – creating a more complex character, with notes of hazelnuts, citrus, polished oak, dark chocolate and delicate smoke throughout the palate.
