Château de Laubade was founded in 1870 in the heart of Gascony, the original home of distillation in France, and has been owned by the Lesgourgues family since 1974. The vineyards, occupying 105 hectares, are situated in the top growth Bas Armagnac region; Ugni Blanc, Baco, Colombard and Folle Blanche are cultivated using organic methods, then vinified and distilled at the château.

Tasting Notes: The superbly rich and expressive nose develops aromas of prune, liquorice, honey, toast, cocoa, dried fruits, exotic wood, with fine notes of walnuts, hazelnut and tobacco leaves. The most premium and exclusive blend from Château de Laubade.
