Château Vieux Moulin is a 200-year-old estate located in the Languedoc appellation of Corbières. This is the largest appellation of the Languedoc with a range of terroirs, and a climate that benefits from the warmth of the Mediterranean, tempered by the cool Atlantic "Cers" wind. The main grape variety here is Carignan, which can sometimes be quite rustic, but comes into its own when cropped from low-yielding old vines, producing wines of richness, spice and concentration.

After he finished military service nearly 20 years ago, Alexandre came to help out at the family wine estate. Soon afterwards, he was given the opportunity to take over the estate, despite having very limited experience in winemaking. However, the choice was either to accept the responsibility or sell. Alex dove in headfirst and learned on the job, making him the 7th generation of his family to run the domaine.
