Valentini is one of Abruzzo's most respected producers, renowned for its exceptional, low-yielding wines. The estate, which has been family-run for generations, focuses on traditional, low-intervention methods. Grapes are grown in old vines and aged in large, old oak barrels, allowing the wines to develop depth and complexity. Valentini's Trebbiano and Montepulciano d'Abruzzo are crafted in limited quantities and are prized for their ability to age and express the true character of the region.
