With its roots in the Riebeeck Valley in South Africa's Western Cape, home to some of the country's finest Chenin Blanc, 24 Rivers produces modern and expressive wines. The region's climate, marked by warm days and cooling Atlantic breezes, allows full-flavour ripeness while preserving freshness. Grapes are sourced mainly from granite- and shale-based soils, where low-yielding vines deliver concentrated fruit with vibrant natural acidity. The winery focuses on purity, balance and South African character.
