Located in the picturesque village of Ribeauville in the Alsace region of France, the Mette distillery carries on the time-honoured craft of distillation. By remaining faithful to a traditional manufacturing process, Nathalie and Timothee Traber produce a wide range of eaux-de-vie and liqueurs made with love, diligence, and patience. Honouring Jean-Paul Mette and Philippe Traber's memory is of paramount importance to this family of craftsmen. Well familiar with the mysteries of the still, they are passionate about sharing their love and expertise for distilling. In the discrete rue des Tanneurs, Nathalie and Timothee Traber create subtly distilled eaux-de-vie and liqueurs designed to please and delight connoisseurs and novices alike.
