The Ditta Silvio Meletti was founded back in 1870 by Silvio Meletti who, after a long series of studies in the field of distillation and research in the field of raw materials, developed a particular recipe and a meticulous production process for the production of Anisetta Meletti. Together with Anisetta, various bitters, elixirs, vermouths and other liqueurs make the Meletti name popular throughout Italy and the world and led Silvio Meletti to win gold medals at the most prestigious international fairs.

In 1879 King Umberto I granted the Meletti Company the coveted patent of "Supplier of the Royal Household". 156 years later, Meletti liqueurs are still produced in accordance with the traditions set out by the founder. In 2021 the Italian Patent and Trademark Office recognized Meletti as a Historic Trademark of National Interest.

The unique label was designed by Andrea De Santis who has created numerous covers for Italian and foreign publications in addition to working with major communications agencies.
