Founded in 1998, Fuleky estate now owns 25 hectares of vineyards in the some of the best sectors of the Tokaj wine region, mainly in Mád, Tokaj, Tarcál and Bodrogkeresztúr villages. The 18th century Baroque winery is located at the center of Bodrogkeresztúr and went under renovation in 2011 using local stones and oak, combined with modern materials, while keeping the feel of the original building. Fuleky produces a range of wine styles from indigenous varieties which combine intensity, complexity and finesse.

The Furmint grapes come from various vineyards: Sajgó in Bodrogkeresztúr, Mestervölgy and Vinnai in Tarcál and the well-known Király in Mád.

The juice is fermented in 400 litre old Hungarian oak barrels. 50% of the wine is aged for 4 months in stainless steel vats whereas the other half is aged in oak on its fine lees.

Grape: 100% Furmint

Tasting Note: Furmint is a grape variety that responds well to age, as can be seen with this wine which has an enticingly complex nose of quince, apple and honey. Medium-bodied with a fine, silky texture, lovely balanced acidity which keeps the finish fresh and mineral.

Food Match: Grilled herbed chicken or monkfish stew.

Farming Practices: Contains Sulfites

Vintage: 2014

Awards: Decanter World Wine Awards 2021 - Silver, 92 points
